Humorous illustrations, easy-to-read text, and dinosaurs introduce young children to good manners and prosocial behavior. Dinosaurs don't just take, take, take; dinosaurs do share. When they are mad, they don't hit or bite; instead they use words to express their feelings. They shout and run outdoors; they don't shout at a wedding or run in the china shop. Illustrating this book with funny pictures of dinosaurs, Steve Björkman helps young children learn the benefits of being considerate toward others and the secret to making friends. An I Like to Read® book. Guided Reading Level E.

A hilarious story about one bug's quest for greatness (with some cool insect facts mixed in!). Meet Burt, a ten-lined June beetle. He's sure he has a superpower like other insects. No, he can't carry 50 times his weight, like ants, or spray paralyzing venom, like some termites. What June beetles seem to do best is chase porch lights and lie on their backs flailing their legs in the air ... Hmm. Maybe Burt doesn't have any special skills after all ... But when some other bugs get into perilous trouble that even their superpowers can't get them out of, Burt realizes there is one helpful thing only he can do ... Why shouldn't every bug have its day (even the wannabe superhero kind)? Kids will be rooting for this one!

Don't bite your friends! It hurts when you munch. Your friends are your friends... They are not your lunch! Muno is a very sweet Gabba Land monster, but he has a very bad habit... sometimes he bites his friends! It's not nice to bite your friends, but, it's okay to bite your food! This Muno-shaped novelty book features a die-cut of Muno's mouth on every page, plus four removable food-shaped play pieces that little ones can use to feed Muno. Many preschoolers can relate to the issue of biting, and this hilarious and innovative novelty board book puts a fun spin on a serious topic and helps little ones to learn that it's not nice to bite your friends!
